

Jess Todtfeld <jess@resultsfirsttraining.com>

Reimbursement Request: $250 from BiddingOwl

3 messages

Jess Todtfeld <jess@resultsfirsttraining.com>
To: Treasurer NSA NYC <treasurer@nsanyc.org>

Fri, Jan 4, 2019 at 9:58 AM

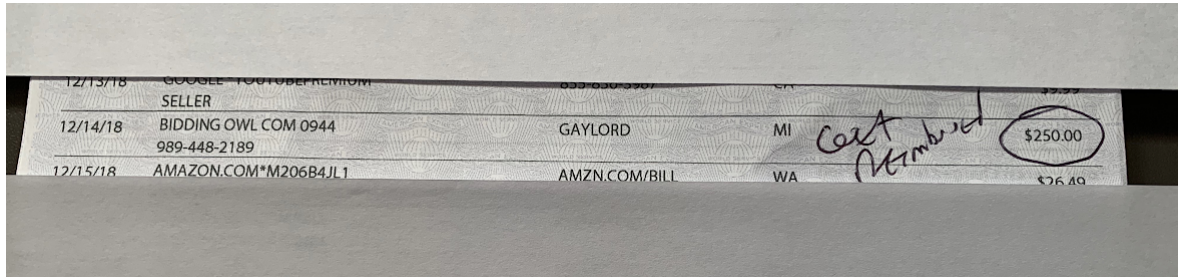

Hi Corey,

Hoping this email can serve as an invoice. Happy to generate an invoice document from Quickbooks if you prefer. BiddingOwl, the online service that we were using charges 5% for bids made on the site. Sylvie ok'd.

Below are copies of whatever I had / what was on their site. For some reason I can't generate a bill from the site.

You can make a check out to Success In Media, Inc. I'll be at the next meeting, so I'm fine until then.

-Jess

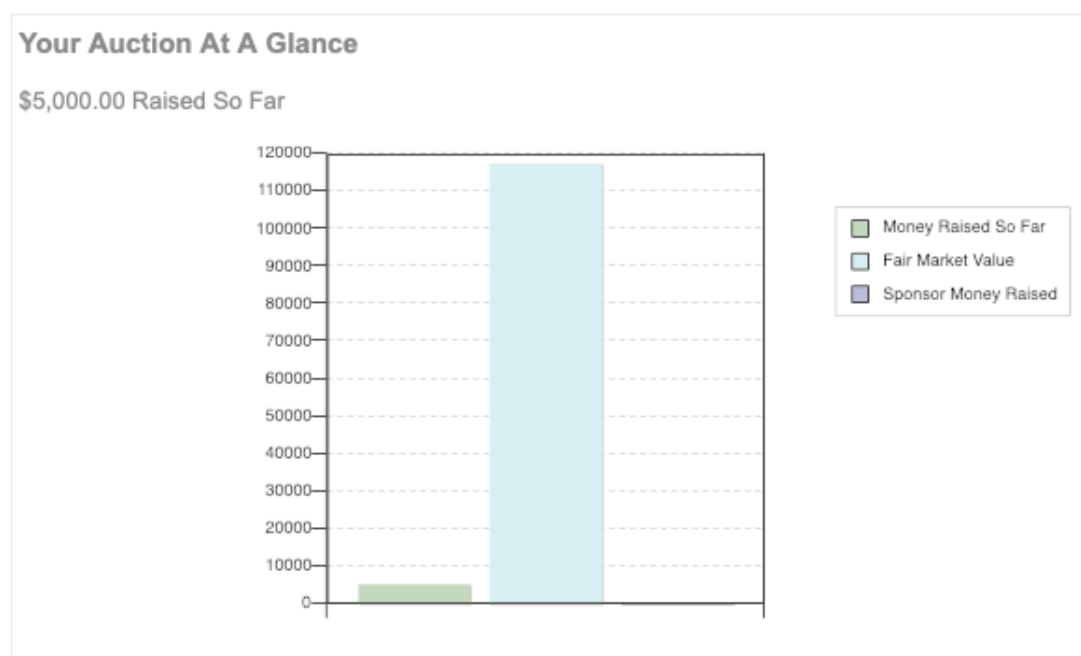

Your Auction at A Glance

🔥 Hot Items (Top 10)

Title	Total Bids
Finally Launch Your Learning Product (and Create Recurring Revenue)	2
eSpeakers Pro Marketing Package	1
Sharpen Your Speaker Style	1
Best Seller TV Episode	1
Build Your Killer Keynote	1
Get More Referrals - Academy	1
Women: Personal Branding Style+Photo-shoot Package (for Women)	1
Beyond Headshots: Brand Portrait Session	1

Your Auction has a total of 9 bids!

So, when do you charge me?

The only time we do charge you our legendary 5% performance fee is when you actually run an online auction (also online pre-bidding for silent and live auction items) or use mobile bidding (which is essentially the same as an online auction). We take 5% of the winning bids (revenue) placed on an online item. Let's assume you have an online item that sells for $100 online. We bill you for $5. Now, let's assume that you utilize "pre-bidding" for your silent and live auction. The item goes into online bidding before the actual event and gets pulled over to the actual event (paper bid sheets) just a few hours before. Somebody placed a pre-bid on the item for $50 online and another person actually bought the item at the actual event via a traditional paper bid-sheet for $100. BiddingOwl will charge you $2.50 based on the online bid of $50. No questions asked. We simply only charge you for items that are "bid" on online.

Think about it - BiddingOwl is cheaper than eBay. They charge a final value fee of 9%!

Treasurer NSA NYC <treasurer@nsanyc.org>
 To: Jess Todtfeld <jess@resultsfirsttraining.com>

Wed, Jan 16, 2019 at 10:01 PM

Jess,

Please submit this request through the reimbursement request form on the Portal.

Thanks, Corey

From: Jess Todtfeld [mailto:jess@resultsfirsttraining.com]
Sent: Friday, January 4, 2019 9:59 AM
To: Treasurer NSA NYC <treasurer@nsanyc.org>
Subject: Reimbursement Request: $250 from BiddingOwl

Hi Corey,

Hoping this email can serve as an invoice. Happy to generate an invoice document from Quickbooks if you prefer. BiddingOwl, the online service that we were using charges 5% for bids made on the site. Sylvie ok'd.

Below are copies of whatever I had / what was on their site. For some reason I can't generate a bill from the site.

You can make a check out to Success In Media, Inc. I'll be at the next meeting, so I'm fine until then.

-Jess

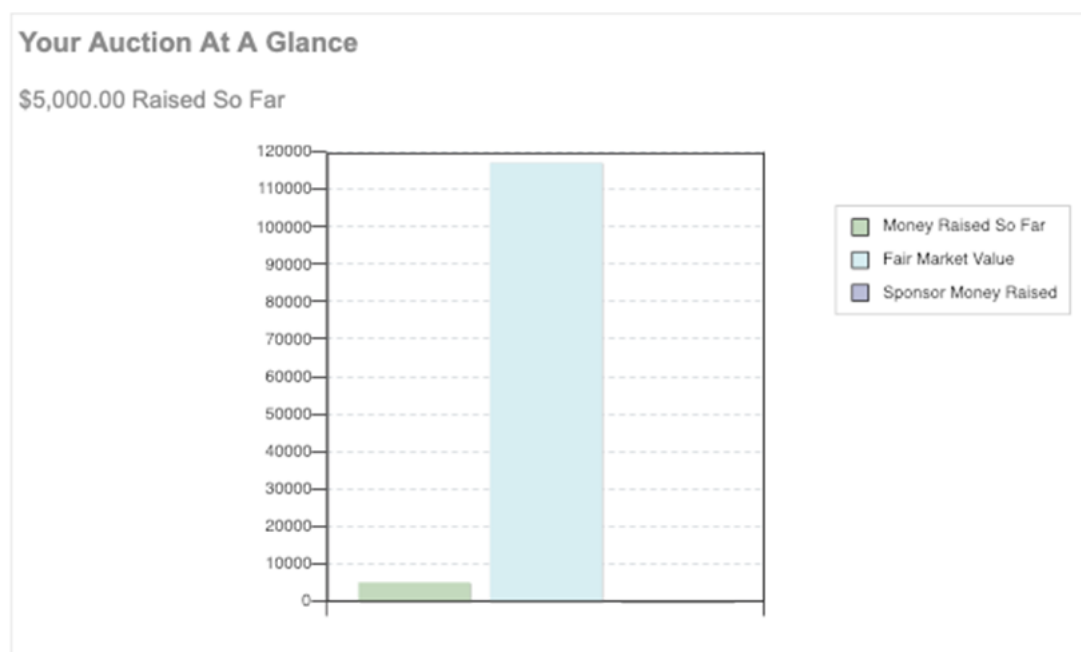

Your Auction at A Glance

🔥 Hot Items (Top 10)

Title	Total Bids
Finally Launch Your Learning Product (and Create Recurring Revenue)	2
eSpeakers Pro Marketing Package	1
Sharpen Your Speaker Style	1
Best Seller TV Episode	1
Build Your Killer Keynote	1
Get More Referrals - Academy	1
Women: Personal Branding Style+Photo-shoot Package (for Women)	1
Beyond Headshots: Brand Portrait Session	1

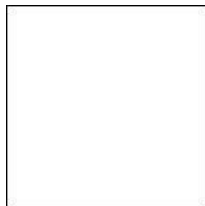

Your Auction has a total of 9 bids!

So, when do you charge me?

The only time we do charge you our legendary 5% performance fee is when you actually run an online auction (also online pre-bidding for silent and live auction items) or use mobile bidding (which is essentially the same as an online auction). We take 5% of the winning bids (revenue) placed on an online item. Let's assume you have an online item that sells for $100 online. We bill you for $5. Now, let's assume that you utilize "pre-bidding" for your silent and live auction. The item goes into online bidding before the actual event and gets pulled over to the actual event (paper bid sheets) just a few hours before. Somebody placed a pre-bid on the item for $50 online and another person actually bought the item at the actual event via a traditional paper bid-sheet for $100. BiddingOwl will charge you $2.50 based on the online bid of $50. No questions asked. We simply only charge you for items that are "bid" on online.

Think about it - BiddingOwl is cheaper than eBay.
They charge a final value fee of 9%!

~WRD200.jpg
1K

Jess Todtfeld <jess@resultsfirsttraining.com>
To: Treasurer NSA NYC <treasurer@nsanyc.org>

Wed, Jan 16, 2019 at 10:02 PM

I'll look on our site and see if I can find it

[Quoted text hidden]

--

=====
Success In Media, Inc. 295 Madison Avenue - 12th Floor New York, NY 10017 NY Office: (646) 233-1424 L.A. Office: (323) 529-8554 Cell: (917) 207-1039 Toll Free: (800) 369-3421 Email: Jess@SuccessInMedia.com Web: www.SuccessInMedia.com SPEAKER Site: www.JessTodtfeld.com With locations in NYC & Los Angeles but serving the World ===== Are we connected? <http://www.Linkedin.com/in/Todtfeld> <http://www.Twitter.com/MediaJess> <http://www.Facebook.com/JessTodtfeld> <http://www.YouTube.com/MediaTrainingCompany> =====